Multi Technical Publication Services, Inc., (collectively identified as "Multitech", "Multitech Publications," "Multitechnical Publication Services, Inc.," "Multitechnical Publications," "we", "us" or "our"), is committed to protecting the privacy of any information you choose to provide us through this website. We ask that you read the following information to learn about our website, its use and its practices. We reserve the right to change this policy at any time, so please refer to it often. If you have any questions or comments regarding this information, please contact Multitech.

The Collection of Personal Information

You do not need to provide any information that identifies you ("name", "age", "gender", "location", "profession", "email", "personal information") to use this website. In general, you may visit this website without telling us who you are or revealing any information about you. However, you may be asked to provide personal information in certain areas of our site. This may include general requests such as:

General Information: If you request information about Multitech and/or any of the services we offer through our website, you may be asked to provide some personal information, such as your name and email addresses.

Comments/Questions: If you choose to email or submit a comment or question to us, you may be asked to provide some personal information, including your name and email address.

The Protection of Your Personal Information

Multitechnical Publication Services, Inc. will take every reasonable measure to protect personal information from unauthorized access and destruction through the use of network firewalls, other Website related hardware and software, and the use and access by our employees or those individuals or firms under contract to provide Website related work. However, Multitech believes that information submitted by you may (or may not) be intercepted or accessed by others who do not have authorization or approval from Multitech to do so. As such, Multitech cannot be liable for any unauthorized interception of or access to personal information, or any use or misuse of the information resulting from the same.

Your Electronic "Right to Know"

As a user of this Website, you have a right to know about any personal information Multitech has about you. You may also exercise your right to amend, correct, or remove this information if you deem it to be incorrect. If you prefer to exercise this right, please notify the Multitech via e-mail at info@multitechinc.com. Multitech will make every reasonable effort to give you access to your information and for you to correct any inaccuracies of fact, that you may identify.

Your Consent and Right to Nondisclosure

By using the Website of Multitechnical Publication Services, Inc., you signify your consent to the terms of this privacy policy. We ask that, if you do not agree with these terms, that you do not disclose any personal information through this site. Should Multitech make any future changes to this privacy policy, those changes will be posted at this location on the Website, so that you will know what information may be gathered, how that information may be used, and to whom it may be disclosed to. As such, we highly recommend that this policy be reviewed periodically by you. Should you have comments or questions regarding this Privacy Policy, you may contact Multitech.
